

Expectant and New Parent Information

It's never too early to begin selecting the right Early Childhood Development Center! Given the fact that demand is often highest for the youngest classes at all pre-schools, it is strongly suggested that families expecting the arrival of a new baby begin the selection process for the right school prior to birth.

The National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC) recommends that families begin evaluating facilities based on four areas:

- Focus on Children
- Qualified Staff
- Relationships with Families
- Management.

Daniel Island Academy is a state of the art NAEYC Accredited Early Childhood Development Center that offers full-time and half-time programs for children 12 months to Pre-K. NAEYC Accreditation means that your child's program meets NAEYC's 10 standards of excellence in early childhood education. Programs that meet these standards provide a safe and healthy environment for children, have teachers who are well-trained, have access to excellent teaching materials, and work with curriculum that is appropriately challenging and developmentally sound. These programs are continuously improving to provide the best possible educational opportunities for children. More information on NAEYC can be found online at www.naeyc.org.
